REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claims 1, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 10, and 11 are considered allowable since when reading the claims in light of the specification, none of the references of record alone or in combination disclose or suggest the combination of limitations specified in the independent claims. As to claims 1, 3, and 4, the prior art of record does not teach wherein the subtracting others of the plurality of channels including for each channel: despreading the received signal with the others channels codes; resspreading the despread others channel codes using the other channels codes; and subtracting from the received signal the resspread other channels. As to claims 5, 7 and 8, the prior art of record does not teach wherein the means for subtracting includes for each channel: means for despreading the received signal with the others channels codes; means for resspreading the despread others channels codes; and means for subtracting from the received signal the resspread other channels. As to claims 10 and 11, the prior art of record does not teach an input configured to receive the plurality of channels as a received signal, each channel associated with a code; and for each of the plurality of channels, a subtractor for subtracting others of the plurality of channels from the received signal and despreading a result of that subtracting as data for that channel.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably
